Hello

9:09 pm

OK, I've seen the email and it will take me some time to provide a thorough response. I propose that I'll revert with the more urgent answers before the end of the day and get the rest to you tomorrow.

OK, I've seen the email and it will take me some time to provide a thorough response. I'm not certain whether I will be able to get this done in the timeframe required but will get something over to you as soon as possible.

OK, I've seen the email and it will take me some time to provide a thorough response. I will focus fully on this and keep working at it until I've answered everything for the client, but the answers won't be ready by the end of the day.

Hello Benedetta.

9:09 pm

I can run the call, but I would like to check in with you on the main points prior to the meeting to prepare for any follow-up questions.

I can run the call if you need me to, but it might be better to ask another member of the team because I haven't done this before.

I can run the call if you send me your notes - I'll be sure to relay any questions that come in back to you.

the end of the day. I'd like to review what you have written before I send it out but I'm unavailable for most of today. Do you think you can assist with

I would correct the report and send it to the client straight away - then inform the relevant person of their mistake.

I would discuss the issue with the relevant person, fix the analysis together and send on the corrections with apologies to the client.

f the day and get the rest to you tomorrow.

Thanks.

Hello Benedetta.

9:09 pm

I apologise for this - please let me know how I should have approached this, and I will run the numbers again and share my updated valuation.

I was following the guidance you provided on how to work this out, so don't worry the valuation will be accurate.

Let me put together an email explaining it, and if this is incorrect I can rework as required. ✓
